

Joseph (Joe) Sarnovsky
Vice President, Administrative Services/Chief Financial Officer

Joe Sarnovsky joined Seminole State in July 2002 with an impressive background in senior leadership roles in business, finance, construction management, and community planning that served industry and the community college system for nearly 25 years.

Assuming the role of chief financial officer at Seminole State, Joe provides advice and counsel to the President and the campus community, with regard to resource management and regulatory compliance. He is responsible for the leadership and management of the Finance and Administrative Services Division, including executive guidance, direction and policy formulation for the fiscal, logistical, facility, and administrative support functions of the College.

Prior to joining Seminole State, Joe served 14 years at Lorain County Community College in Ohio as its Vice President for Administrative Services/Treasurer. His background also includes 10 years of corporate fiscal management and experience in integrating information technology and planning.

A graduate of the community college system, Joe earned a bachelor's degree in business administration from Cleveland State University, MBA from Baldwin-Wallace College, and is a CPA. He is currently a doctoral student at the University of Phoenix and an active member of several state college leadership organizations.

Joe and his wife of 33 years, Janie, reside in Sanford and have two sons living outside the Tampa Bay area.
